ISSUED SEMI-WEEKLY. MASSILLON, OHIO, MONDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1901 XL—No. 31

A HOME WEDDING.

That of Miss Patterson and J. R. Dangler.

THE RECEPTION FOLLOWS.

Ceremony Witnessed by Relatives and Intimate Friends—Beautiful Gowns and Effective Decorations—Handsome and Valuable Gifts Received by the Well Known and Popular Young Couple.

A remarkably pretty home wedding was that of Miss Grace Patterson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer J. Patterson, and J. Ralph Dangler, which took place at the Patterson residence, 39 Wellman street, Wednesday evening at 6:30. The ceremony was witnessed only by near relatives and intimate friends of both families. Later there was a reception to which two hundred invitations had been issued.

To the music of the Lohengrin wedding march played by George Lyon, the bridal party entered the drawing room from the library, passing between white satin ribbons unwound by the ushers, J. G. Lester and Lee Winterhalter, of Canton. The bride, with her father, was preceded by a flower girl, her little sister Marie Patterson; her bridesmaid, Miss Florence Dangler, and the maid of honor, her sister, Miss Louise Patterson. The groom with his best man, Homer D. Heman, of Lima, entered from the dining room and met the bride before a bank of palms and flowers where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Cassius M. Roberts.

The bride's wedding gown was of white taffeta silk with an over dress of white silk net, trimmed with lace applique. She wore a veil and carried white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore white Paris muslin over pink silk; the bridesmaid, white embroidered chiffon over white taffeta. Both carried pink roses. The little flower girl was dressed in pink mousseline de soie over a pink silk slip. Mrs. S. J. Patterson wore a gown of black net and velvet applique. Mrs. J. R. Dangler, mother of the groom, black Brussels net over black taffeta silk. The decorations throughout the house were artistic and effective. In the drawing room, hall and library were masses of bright autumn leaves, bitter sweet berries, chrysanthemums and smilax. In the dining room the color scheme was pink and green. Supper for the bridal party was served at a round table. From the chandelier above hung ropes of smilax tied with pink ribbon. The centerpiece was pink carnations and maiden hair fern. The table was lit by candles under pink shades. Covers were laid for ten, Otis C. Turner, of Chicago, the bride's uncle, and Miss Mabel Diethenn being seated with the bridal party. Daintily decorated boxes, tied with pink ribbon, at each place, held bride's cake. A buffet supper was served in the dining room throughout the evening.

As the bride passed upstairs she threw her boquet over the rail. It was caught by her sister, Miss Louise Patterson. The newly married pair left at 9:30 for Chicago. Their departure from the house was marked by the customary shower of rice from the young people gathered about the entrance. Mrs. Dangler's traveling gown was a tailor suit of blue venetian cloth, with a blouse of apple green silk.

The wedding presents were displayed in an upstairs room. They included almost everything imaginable in the way of household furniture and bric a brac of the handsomest description. Among them was a massive library table of mahogany, a mahogany davenport, drawing room table and several chairs. The gifts of silverware included a case of small table silver, several smaller cases of spoons and forks, a number of vegetable and bread dishes and a solid silver chaffing dish with the various utensils for chaffing dish cookery. A dinner set of Haviland china, much beautiful cut glass, a quantity of linen and many handsome ornaments and pictures completed the display. The bride presented her maids with gold brooches and the little flower girl with a gold ring. The groom's gifts to his best man and ushers were gold link cuff buttons. A check for $500 payable to Mr. Dangler's order was among the presents.

Upon their return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Dangler will take up their residence at No. 39 Cedar street. Mr. Dangler occupies a position in the office of the Massillon Iron and Steel Company. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dangler, of No. 17 South Hill street. Mrs. Dangler is a member of the social set from which there have been a number of marriages recently and in which she is a great favorite.

Among the guests at the wedding were Mrs. Evelyn McCue Wright, of Cleveland, Otis C. Turner, of Chicago, W. K. Knapp, of Washington, George Lyon, of Toledo, Homer D. Heman, of Lima, and Lee Winterhalter, of Canton.

TALKED OF AND AT.

The Band Played and Everybody Sang.

THEN THE VOWS WERE TAKEN.

Hundreds Unable to Gain Admittance to the Salvation Army Barracks to Witness the "Hallelujah Wedding" of Captain Brediger and Miss Mary Urban.

The "hallelujah wedding" at the local Salvation Army barracks, at the corner of Mill and Tremont streets, Wednesday evening, would have netted the corps double receipts if admission had been possible for the hundreds who sought it. The barracks were filled to overflowing long before the meeting opened. An admission fee of ten cents was charged.

Miss Mary Urban, a soldier in the local corps, and Captain George Brediger, of Cleveland, were married. Colonel R. E. Holz, of Cleveland, performed the ceremony. Miss Urban is a daughter of Mrs. Grace Urban, of 26 Fulton street. Captain Brediger's parents reside at 183 Wooster street.

There was much that was light in the words and actions of the Salvationists at times, but the ceremony itself was almost awful in its solemnity. The bride and groom pledged all the usual things, and in addition averred that they will live for God and fight in the ranks of the Salvation Army; that they will never allow their love for each other to come between them and their God; that they will use their influence to bring into the Army all those for whose training they may become responsible; that as "true soldiers of Jesus Christ each will take the other in this war, to have and to hold," and finally, "in the name of God and the Salvation Army" they were pronounced husband and wife. Twenty minutes were required for the taking of the vows.

The ceremony was performed on the platform, over which hung a wedding bell and a canopy of pink and white bunting. The bridesmaid was Captain Violet Urban, of Syracuse, N. Y., a sister of the bride. The groom's best man was Captain Howard Hinkle, of the Salvationists' O. K. band, at present stationed at Painesville. The bride and bridesmaid were gowned in navy blue worsted material, with sashes of white cashmere. The bride wore a bow of white satin on her right shoulder. The American flag and the tri-color of the Army were held above the heads of the couple by Captain Yeager, of Akron, and Ensign Mattie Parker, of Canton, during the ceremony. When the colonel read the wedding articles of the Salvation Army he stood between the bride and groom, whose attendants were at either side, and all faced the audience. Later the bride and groom faced each other.

At the close of the ceremony the Salvationists and congregation sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Preceding the marriage there were selections by the band, prayers by Adjutant Boyd, of Cleveland, and Ensign Parker, of Canton; Staff Captain Straubel, of Cleveland, sang "I Love Thee, My Savior;" Adjutant Boyd, to the air of "The Fatal Wedding" sang "What God has Joined Together, Let No Man Put Asunder." Colonel Holz commented somewhat on the state of the feelings of the groom and offered some advice. Then he called upon various others, who did likewise and also saw to it that the bride was not neglected. The bride and groom, blushing painfully at times, faced the audience through it all. The bride, at the close of the ceremony, was almost overcome. Both the bride and groom were called upon for speeches. Captain and Mrs. Brediger will reside in Cleveland, whither they have gone.

There were present at the ceremony all the officers who attended the afternoon state conference at the barracks. All returned to their homes Thursday.

TO DRILL FOR OIL.

A Co-Partnership Organized in Massillon.

TERRITORY IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Derrick Now Being Erected in Butler County--Lumber Company Makes a Heavy Purchase—Warwick's Glass Factory—Other Industrial News.

A co-partnership has been organized in this city for the purpose of leasing and drilling oil territory in Butler county, Pa. Among those interested are the Hon. Anthony Howells, the Rev F. H. Simpson, Dr. H. C. Eyman, Dr. S. Hattery, W. A. Allbaugh, Stanton H. Fox, Warren E. Russell, J. M. Schuckers, J. M. Bostick, S. H. Loew, H. V. Kramer, L. P. Schimke, E. V. Young, E. P. Edgar, T. E. Drake, of this city; E. Allbaugh, of Clyde, and J. W. Taylor, of Columbus.

The promoters of the co-partnership are Case, Sarber & Adams, of Cleveland. The derrick is being erected on the field now. Drilling was commenced Thursday. It is the expectation that the well will be down within three or four weeks. Persons interested say that oil has been found in large quantities on all sides of the site for the well. The concern has 95 acres under lease.

LUMBER MILL'S OUTPUT.

W. A. Allbaugh, of the Allbaugh-Fox Lumber Company, Tuesday evening returned from Iaeger, West Va., where he arranged for the purchase of the entire output of a saw-mill whose daily capacity is 15,000 feet. The lumber will be distributed from the mill. It consists of poplar and oak.

WARWICK GLASS CO.

The Warwick Glass Company has given to George Schrader and W. H. Geis the contracts for the wood work and the tanks, respectively, on the new factory being erected at Warwick. The power house and some of the other buildings have been raised.

ALL KINDS OF CLIMATE.

Charles Stoner Tells of His Western Trip.

Charles Stoner, who returned a few days ago from a year's trip through the Western states talks entertainingly of his experiences. "I spent the greater part of last winter in Minnesota," said Mr. Stoner yesterday. "The coldest weather we had there was 55 degrees below zero. Of course we thought that pretty frigid, but 55 degrees below zero there does not effect a person any more than zero weather does here. The atmosphere is altogether different, being much dryer. I visited nearly all the Western states, but I think California the most interesting. You can find any sort of climate there. On September 21 we were on a high range of the Sierra Nevada mountains, near the Sequoia National Park, and were trudging through six inches of snow. A few days later when we returned to the valley the weather was exceedingly hot. In the valleys oranges, grapes and fruits of all kinds grow in abundance. I have seen bunches of grapes that would weigh four and five pounds. In the mountain streams there is excellent trout fishing. On the Fourth of July we were fishing in an upper mountain stream. The ground was covered with snow and it was pretty chilly but we got all the trout we could carry home. There are all kinds of game in the California mountains—plenty of deer and a few bear besides other smaller game."

LIBERALS VICTORIOUS.

Government Troops are Surrounded at Tumaco.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Consul General Gudger, at Panama, in a dispatch to the state department, dated October 14, says a report has reached him that at Tumaco the Liberals have captured the Morro which commands the entrance to the city and have surrounded the government troops stationed in the city. It is expected the city will soon be taken.

THE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY.

He Will be Forty-four Years Old on Sunday.

Washington, Oct. 26. — President Roosevelt will be forty-four years old tomorrow. The event will be celebrated with a dinner, according to custom in the family, in which the children will participate.

INDEPENDENT OPERATOR.

W. R. Gerard Sinking a Mine on Kitchen Farm.

W. R. Gerard, the Cleveland coal operator, is sinking a shaft on the Kitchen farm, four miles west of Massillon. A fine body of coal has been found in that vicinity. Mr. Gerard operates independently of the Massillon Coal Mining Company, which recently bought up a great deal of the district mining property. The concerns now operating mines in the district are the Massillon Company, the Elm Run Company, the Pocock Company, the Stark Company, the Pigeon Run Company and the Crystal Spring Company, all of which have their offices in Massillon. It is supposed that Mr. Gerard will locate his headquarters here.

TALK OF A TEMPLE.

Odd Fellows May Erect a Home.

LODGE IN PROSPEROUS STATE.

Said to Have About $17,000 in Treasury, and the Amount is Growing—Some Members Think it Would Be Well to Purchase a Well Located Building and Remodel It.

There is a strong probability that during the coming year Sippo lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will erect a temple in Massillon. For a number of years the lodge's quarters have been in the Warwick building, in North Erie street. It is said that the lodge has a surplus of about $17,000 in its treasury which sum is steadily growing. The lodge room is just now in much demand as a dancing hall, it being the only suitable place in the city large enough to accommodate a large party. Scarcely a night passes that some club or society does not use the hall, and each event nets the lodge a considerable sum.

The temple project has not been brought formally before the lodge, but for a long time it has been a subject of discussion among members. Various sites are talked of. The temple idea was born several years ago, at which time many members favored the purchasing of the building at the southwest corner of Main and mill streets, which was afterwards sold to Hess, Snyder & Company. The general feeling of the Odd Fellows, however, seems to be that new buildings should be erected and not an old one remodeled.

The Massillon, or, as it is sometimes called, the German lodge of Odd Fellows, is also interested in the project, and Sippo lodge would undoubtedly have its co-operation.

FROM CANTON TO MEDINA

A New Electric Railway May Pass Through Massillon.

It is said that another street railway company will soon be knocking at Massillon's door and asking for a franchise. Among the projectors of the proposed road are J. C. Welty, J. E. Monnot, J. J. Whitacre, A. E. Townsend, J. C. Harmony, Augustus Dannemiller, and others. The road will be built from Canton to Medina. The route from Canton will be to Myers lake, thence to Crystal Spring, then through to Canal Fulton, Clinton, Warwick, Wadsworth, and Seville. From Seville one branch will be built to Medina and another to Lodi. It is proposed to build a branch from Crystal Spring to Massillon. This branch will follow the canal to Cherry street, then go South on Erie street to the square.

The proposed road will pass through four counties and will connect thirteen towns. It will touch three lakes, Myers, Chippewa and Luna. The road will pass through territory that is not now reached by any other railroad. The population of the territory outside of Massillon and Canton which the road is expected to cover will exceed forty thousand inhabitants. It is said that work will be begun early next summer. Franchises in Canton, Medina and Warwick have been asked for and the right of way along the line is being secured.

TWENTY KNOWN DEAD.

Eleven Still Missing from the Fire at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—Another body has been found in the ruins of yesterday's fire, making the total number of known dead twenty. There are still eleven missing, and searchers are still at work.

THE NEWS BY WIRE.

President Roosevelt Preparing His Message.

DEPARTS FROM USUAL METHOD

The President Will Celebrate His Forty-fourth Birthday on Sunday — Negotiations in Progress for Miss Stone's Release.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The consultations between the President and his cabinet officers yesterday were especially full, owing to the decision which Mr. Roosevelt has reached to write all of his own message to congress and to do it on original lines. Heretofore the secretary of state has written that portion covering foreign relations and the other cabinet officers each have contributed a chapter on his respective department. The President has determined to do away with this detailed statement of the affairs of each department. He will devote his message to only such topics as he chooses to lay particularly before the attention of congress, leaving the reports of the cabinet officers to acquaint congress with the details of administration. Secretary Hay referred to the case of Miss Stone and in answer to questions told of messages received from Consul General Dickinson at Sofia and Charge Spencer Eddy at Constantinople, which threw no light on the present hiding place of the woman.

REFORMED CHURCH CONFERENCE

Possible Removal of Heidelberg Seminary from Tiffin.

Wadsworth, Oct. 26.—At the Friday morning session of the Ohio Synod of the Reformed church interesting reports were heard from the Reformed Deaconess Home Hospital, at Alliance, O., and the Orphans' Home of the Reformed church, at Fort Wayne, Ind. The Rev. B. Ruf, the superintendent of the orphans' home, was heartily applauded in his remarks concerning the desire of the institution to make the inmates patriotic and worthy American citizens.

At the afternoon session the question of the removal of Heidelberg Theological Seminary brought forth a lively discussion. The following resolution was finally adopted: "That the synod intrusts to the board of trustees the initiative steps of removing Heidelberg Seminary from Tiffin." The board of trustees will now be ready to receive propositions from Cleveland or any other city for the location of the seminary. As there are twelve vacant pulpits in Ohio synod with no young ministers to supply them, a crisis is thrust upon the church. The report on home missions stated that the church had invested in mission property more than $81,000: almost $15,000 was given to the cause last year. The missions of the church were never in a more prosperous condition than at the present time. At 4 o'clock the synod adjourned to visit the salt works in a body. Last night the Rev. A. C. Shuman lectured on "Pike's Peak" in the Lutheran church and the Rev. John E. Pounds, D. D., lectured on "Dollars and Duty" in the Reformed church.

TROOPS IN READINESS.

England's Volunteers and Reserves May be Called Out.

London, Oct. 26.—An error committed by some of the provincial police has led to the premature leaking out of the fact that the war office contemplates the possible contingency of having to call out every volunteer in the country. The war office has distributed to the police offices throughout the kingdom bills ordering all reservists, militia, yeomen and volunteers to report themselves without delay to headquarters, with the view of active service. These bills are accompanied by letters ordering that the bills be kept in a safe place until telegraphic orders to post them up are received. The police of Lancaster overlooked the letter and posted the bills, causing widespread perturbation.

SAFES BLOWN AT BEREA.

Robbers Secure Five Thousand Dollars.

Berea, O., Oct. 26.—Burglars obtained one hundred dollars in money and nearly five thousands dollars worth of negotiable bonds by blowing open the safe in Lawrence & Brightman's hardware store, and the safe in the Dunham foundry.

BISHOP SMALL'S ADDRESS

Urges Church Members to Be More Independent.

The congregation of the local African Methodist Episcopal Zion church are awaiting with interest the announcement of the appointment of pastors of the Pennsylvania and Ohio conference, now in session in Allegheny, which will probably be made this afternoon. Bishop J. D. Small, in his adrdess to the conference, Friday, said in part: "We do not think the expression too extensive when we declare the ministers of the twentieth century, from the nature of things, must be select men, and not men who have selected themselves. This does not mean that all ministers must, of necessity, be college-bred men; but the more so the better. The man for success in the Christian ministry must be cultivated—no matter whether it has been done in or out of college. Men ought never to be too sure of their call to the Christian ministry, when their qualifications do not measure up to their requirements, for it is unreasonable to believe that God will call a man to perform work He knows the individual is unable to perform creditably, and evidently does not supply the deficiency. God does not work contrary to reason."

In considering the money matters of the church, he urged the ministers to teach their people to contribute more and ask less help from outsiders. After reviewing the financial needs of the church, he said, "Brethren, after patiently scouring the woods to gather the birds together we are ready to shoot at the most conspicuous bird: the assessment of the general conference must be paid."

Some members of the conference felt that the bishop had been a little severe in his admonitions, especially in regard to the collections, and at the close of the episcopal address they made eloquent speeches. Among these were the Rev. G. W. Lewis, presiding elder; Dr. J. S. Caldwell, of Philadelphia, and the Rev. J. C. Temple.

FOR FOREIGN LANDS

Massillon Mills Are Now Grinding Flour.

ORDERS TAKEN BY M. NEAL.

Mr. Neal States That He Has Shipped 6,500 Barrels of Flour to Dublin, Belfast, Glasgow and Dundee During the Past Few Weeks—The Big Plant Now in Full Operation.

Next Wednesday will be visitors' day at the new mill of M. Neal, in Canal street, which is now in full operation, 600 barrels of flour being produced daily. On and after Wednesday persons who desire to inspect the mill will be shown through by Mr. Neal. In the past few weeks, when the machinery was being tested and gotten into proper running order, Mr. Neal had not time for escorting parties through the plant, and he wants to atone now for any disappointments that may have been caused.

The equipment of the mill is thoroughly modern. What is known as the sifter system is used. The wheat is first freed from all foreign matter, and then it begins its journeys through grinder after grinder, upstairs and downstairs, time after time, until finally it has been separated into wheat, middlings and bran. Not a single iota of the grain is wasted.

During the past week Mr. Neal has shipped to the British Isles 36 car loads, or 6,400 barrels of flour. They were consigned to Dublin, Belfast, Glasgow and Dundee.

Foreign orders which Mr. Neal states he now has on hand are: For Glasgow, 6,500 sacks; Leith, 1,000 sacks; Belfast, 2,000 sacks; Liverpool, 1,000 sacks. The last two contracts Mr. Neal received Saturday morning. Mr. Neal attributes the increased foreign demand for flour to the partial failure of the corn crop of this country and the complete failure of rye in other lands. Wheat, though more expensive, must be used when other grain cannot be procured.

RELEASE OF MISS STONE.

Negotiations Are Progressing Satisfactorily.

Constantinople, Oct. 27.—Negotiations with brigands from Melnik province, Salonica, for the release of Miss Stone and Madam Tsilka are progressing satisfactorily. Officials here hourly anticipate important developments.

State Representatives,
R. A. POLLOCK,
CLARK W. METZGER,

It is not always that the county secures first-class representatives, but in the present instance we have two and there ought not to be the slightest doubt about re-electing them. If Stark county voters exercise their usual powers of discrimination, Robert A. Pollock and Clark W. Metzgar will secure big majorities on November 5.

J. Royal Snyder, candidate for treasurer of Stark county on the Republican ticket, has, in his position as deputy treasurer, devoted much time to the details of the business which will engage his attention should he be elected. This experience adds much to Mr. Snyder's many other qualifications for the office which he seeks, and should be an important consideration to Stark county taxpayers.

The Independent's Crystal Spring correspondent notes that a representative of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company hunted vainly about the village this week to find men willing to work on the railroad's steam shovel at $1.50 per day. The truth is that there are few idle men these days and those that are idle are so from preference, not from necessity. This is the condition of affairs which Senator Hanna referred to at Delaware Saturday when he advised voters to "let well enough alone."

Dun's trade review of the past week shows that the industrial outlook is as bright as could be wished. A large winter trade is anticipated and mills, shops, factories and furnaces are assured of full operation until the end of the year. The feature of the week was the placing of enormous orders of steel rails, practically assuring another record breaking output. Other railroad supplies are also in great demand, the serious embarrassment of Massillon manufacturers on account of car shortage being felt at many other points.

M. W. Oberlin, candidate for the office of county auditor on the Republican ticket, is qualified for the position by many years of business experience. While at Mt. Union college Mr. Oberlin paid special attention to the science of accounts. Later he became principal of the Canton Business College and was for a number of years in charge of the bookkeeping classes of the Canton Young Men's Christian Association. Added to this valuable training Mr. Oberlin has a thorough knowledge of the German language. It would be difficult to find a man better equipped for the auditorship.

No more convincing proof of the country's prosperity has been presented lately than that contained in a report from Philadelphia concerning the production of anthracite coal this year—the largest in the history of the trade. The production this month will show a big increase over October, 1900, and it is thought the total production for the year will be brought up in round figures to 55,000,000 tons. In 1900 it was 14,000,000. This production has been fully taken. The demand for anthracite coal has never before been so great and the reason given for the large quantities used this year is the satisfactory condition of trade.

The Hon. Martin Dodge, director of the office of public road inquiries at Washington, describes in the current issue of the Forum what is being done by the government to improve the condition of the roads throughout the country. The particulars given in the article of the losses suffered by the community through deficient means of communication should attract general attention. There is one phase of the transportation problem which has approached no satisfactory solution. This is the matter of wagon road haul. "While the greater part of our farm products travel by steamship, canal or railway," says Mr. Dodge, "virtually all of them are conveyed for some distance over the public highways. It is unfortunate that this is often the most expensive part of their journey. It has been shown by mathematical demonstration that it costs more to move a bushel of wheat or a ton of hay ten miles over the average country roads of the United States than to transport the same burden 500 miles by railway or 2,000 miles by steamship. It has happened many times in different parts of the country that farmers have let crops go to waste because the cost of hauling them to the nearest market or railway shipping-point over wretched and ill-kept roads amounts to more than could be realized for them afterward; whereas, if good roads on which heavy loads could be hauled had been at hand, the same crops could have been marketed at a small profit to the producer, while the economic gain resulting from their application to useful purposes would have been very considerable."

GEORGIA AND THE NEGRO.

The negro is here to stay. It is better that he should be educated—better for him and better for all. Much has been done for him already, and much more can be done. The warmest encouragement Booker Washington has received has been from the people in the South. He was sympathetically received by an immense audience of Southern whites in Atlanta eight years ago. We refer to the magnitude of his work only to praise it, and to arouse the whites to friendly emulation.

Let the truth be known that the negroes are going forward! It will the better stir us up to our own work. In Georgia the assessed value of property held by negroes is placed at $15,000,000, representing a real market value of $30,000,000. Of this sum $1,000,000, of assessment of $2,000,000 market value, was added in the year just closed. The wealth of the negroes of the Southern states is not less than $400,000,000. The building up of wealth follows a sharpening of the intellect. If the untutored colored men of the past quarter of a century could amass almost half a billion of dollars, why not the educated negro during the next quarter of a century quadruple the amount?—Atlanta Constitution.

OUR ARMIES AND FIGHTING MEN.

The number of men on the rolls at different periods was as follows:

July, 1861	186,751
March, 1862	637,126
January, 1863	918,191
January, 1864	860,737
May, 1865	1,000,516

The precentage present, during the active years of the war, reached its maximum of nearly 700,000 in January, 1863; in January, 1865, only 621,000 were present out of a total of 990,000, the accumulation of wounded, sick, prisoners, and missing having steadily increased. Of those present, the number ready for duty on the firing line was probably not over two-thirds, the remaining one-third being occupied as teamsters, cooks, hospital attendants, and in the many other duties incidental to movements of an army exclusive of fighting. As a striking illustration of the difference between paper strength and fighting strength in a war of such vast dimensions, covering such an enormous territory, Dr. J. W. Draper qoutes a letter from "one of the greatest and most successful of the generals," in which he points out that at the close of hostilities in 1865 there were 1,050,000 men on the rolls and only 262,000 present for duty in the active fighting armies of Grant, Sherman, Thomas, and others. "Where were all the rest? Guarding the thousands of miles of seacoast, rivers, and roads, guarding prisoners and acting as provost guarsd, or loafing about the country. I do not mention this in criticism, but to show how in war such vast expenses do occur, and how often the country overestimates the exact strength of armies from the official returns. At no single time during the late Civil War—not even in 1864, the time of greatest pressure—do I believe that fifty per cent of the men drawing pay as soldiers were actually within striking distance of the enemy. To this cause may be traced some of the worst failures, when the government and people behind pushed their officers 'on,' supposing that figures could handle muskets and fight battles."—From "The United States Army," by Gen. F. V. Greene, in the November Scribner's.

THE SANITY OF ASSASSINS.

Dr. J. M. Buckley, a well known writer on insanity, delusions, etc., discusses in the November Century the mental phenomena of "The Assassination of Kings and Presidents." He says:

Every doctrine that strikes at the root of an organization, if believed, gives new meanings to the words "wise" and "prudent," "good" and "evil," and creating a new conscience, gives a true or false sense of merit to the consciousness, a new signification to "honor" or "disgrace," and develops pride in deeds which before would have engendered shame. An organization, such as an anarchistic group, crystallizes these new elements, and new personalities of the nature of moral monsters are produced. Men without such a theory may commit crime, and their dead consciences may not trouble them. Those who act upon theory, when they are contriving assassination, may reach the cheerful calmness of a father planning a festival for his children. In Russia I sat incognito where such conversation flowed as smoothly as a rivulet in a meadow. This, then, seemed more wonderful than that they could have such thoughts. The grandiose idea of assassinating a king or president has a peculiar fascination for many minds; secret societies to promote destructive work inflame all abnormal combustibles in human nature; and a large number in every country are saturated with the spirit of anarchy. The crime of an individual indicates only the depravity of one person; anarchic murders imply the practical application of the theories of many.

Absolute freedom of speech in practice has developed in many the most diabolical phases of human nature. While the privileges granted by the constitution must not be unduly restricted, and freedom of speech must be maintained, responsibility should be attached to words tending to a breach of the peace, in the order of the importance of the crime which they advocate. Statesmanship should devise some method, in harmony with the federal government of the United States and the independence of the States, whereby the law should pronounce a man who attempts to assassinate a ruler guilty of treason, and punish him with death, sane or insane—unless the alleged lunacy should be shown to be so pronounced as to have no connection with a system of doctrine justifying assassination in the eyes of the holder thereof.

Yes, "Let well enough alone." Do as Mark tells you. Go on voting the Republican ticket, and though your wife and children are crying for bread, every trust king and every corporation magnate will rise up to call you blessed unless you chance to strike for your rights and then you will go to jail.—Mansfield Shield.

This is a sample of the sort of stuff which some of the more provincial of the Democratic newspapers are presenting to their readers day by day in lieu of anything sensible or convincing in the way of campaign argument. It is to be hoped that it is intended merely for superficial effect, baleful as that effect may be. Any one who really feels such sentiments has murder in his heart, anarchy in his mind and a fire brand in his hand. It requires no flight of the imagination to connect utterances of this kind with the working of a mind like that of Cozlgosz and the act which was a logical sequence. The hunting of Anarchists is futile if weak minds are to be fed upon such teachings. Publications of this description should be crushed out by the full force of public opinion.

18 PERISH IN FIRE,

Which Destrorys Buildings on Market Street, Philadelphia.

DEATH LIST MAY BE GREATER

Firemen Saw People In the Building Who Never Reached a Point of Escape—Fire Spread With Appalling Rapidity.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—Eighteen known dead and property loss amounting to upwards of $500,000 is the awful result of a fire which occurred in the business section of the city. The number of injured is not known definitely, but fully a score of victims were treated at various hospitals. Police and firemen were last night delving into the ruins in search of bodies supposed to have been buried beneath the debris as it is feared that others besides the known dead may have lost their lives in the flames. The buildings destroyed were the eight-story structure 1219 and 1221 Market street, occupied by Hunt, Wilkinson & Co., upholsterers and furniture dealers, and three three-story buildings occupied by small merchant men. The big furniture building extended back a half block to Commerce street and was owned by Henry C. Lea. The list of known dead is as follows:

Dorothy Kramer.
Martha Baker.
Margaret Hebden.
Susan Gormley.
Harry House.
H. A. Sparrow.
Fred Wittington.
Charles Landis.
One unknown white woman.
Three unknown white men.
Walter Stearly.
J. E. Armstrong.
Mrs. Martha Banks, colored.
Mrs. Mary Mitchell, colored.
Margaret Grady.

At 10.20 o'clock yesterday morning the blaze broke forth in the building occupied by Hunt Wilkinson & Co., and one hour later the horrible sacrifice of life had been made and the immense loss of property had been accomplished. The origin of the death dealing conflagration is unknown. It is said that an explosion of naphtha or gasoline in the basement was the cause, but this is denied by Mr. Wilkinson, who says there never was a sufficient quantity of either explosive about the building to be responsible for the terrible disaster.

Such a disastrous fire, attended with so great a loss of life in such a brief period, was never before known in this city. Men and women died a lingering, agonizing death in the presence of thousands of spectators who were unable to lift a hand to their assistance. The rear of Hunt, Wilkinson & Co.'s building faces on Commerce street, a small thoroughfare. On the fire escape at this end of the building two men and one woman were slowly roasted to death, while the horror-stricken throng on the street below turned sick at the sight. In the front, on Market street, a woman, driven to desperation, leaped from a window on the top floor and was dashed to death on the pavement. These are but a few of the heart-rending scenes attending the conflagration. Firemen claim to have seen men and women, unable to reach the windows or fire escapes, burned to death in the interior of the building. If this be so, little or nothing remains of these victims, and it is doubtful if any portion of their bodies will be recovered.

REALIZING WAS ENCOUNTERED.

Bulls Had Hard Work to Sustain the Market Friday.

New York, Oct. 26.—The bulls had hard work to sustain the market Friday and the efforts to continue the advance were frustrated by realizing encountered. The coalers continued to move upward Friday morning and there was a revival of the bull movement in St. Paul, but the heavy realizing which had been in progress during the week under cover of the new points of strength has aroused suspicion that the whole movement was manipulative and designed to unload stocks. A number of special weak points added to the difficulties of the bulls and the money and exchange situation showed the necessity of caution for those depending on call loans. The whole market turned heavy before the closing and was in that condition at the last. The day's net changes were reduced for the most part to insignificant proportion.

A MERAN CASTLE.

American Dollars Can Buy Much Magnificence.

BOTZEN A CURIOUS CITY.

The Old Barons of Germany Surrounded Themselves with Much That Was Picturesque —Also Much That Was Unsanitary and Uncomfortable —A Moat in Practical Use.

Meran, Sept. 20.—Coming southward over the Brenner Pass, the first town of real importance at which the train stops is Botzen. In three days of vestibuled express trains, which by the way is not to be confounded with the American idea of what an express train ought to be, the traveler going down from northern Europe into Italy, usually has no time for these wayside stations. Yet Botzen is really a very curious sort of a city, and amply repays the inconvenience of a break in the journey. It lies in the center of a very fertile valley, surrounded by thousands of acres of vineyards, to which Austria looks principally for its supply of cheap red wine. The very thrifty citizens of Bozten have acquired a reputation of assisting nature in the manufacture of this wine, so that, whether the crop of grapes is large or small, the amount of wine placed upon the market averages about the same. Wickedness of this sort, however, is not so prevalent as it used to be, for the difficulties in the way of growing grapes, which a few years ago threatened European vineyards with extinction, have been overcome to a degree, and the cheapness of the natural product, rather than the disposition of the manufacturer, has come to the relief of the public. The immense vineyards, unbroken by forests, give the mountain sides a somewhat monotonous appearance, the picturesque element being contributed by the vineyard guardians, who wear a remarkable costume, approaching in magnificence the traditional garb of the North American Indian in war paint and feathers. Pictures of these imposing individuals are to be seen on the most popular post-card, and I rather imagined that the costume itself was not really worn, unless perhaps on feast days, until assured to the contrary. One has but to enter unbidden one of the vineyards, to become suddenly made aware of the presence of the guardian, whose head-dress of feathers is worn for the purpose of simulating a bird of prey, thus frightening off winged culprits, as well as two-legged intruders.

Because of its situation, sheltered from the wind, Botzen becomes oppressively hot in summer, but if the visitor arrives in the fall or winter, with the expectation of remaining, or of going on to Meran, he is certain to encounter a very considerable number of invalids, usually suffering from consumption, and life ceases to be very amusing, in those resorts where the afflicted gather. It is a very curious old town, just a trifle like Berne, with narrow streets, and shops under low-arched arcades, and a great deal of business is done. At present Botzen boasts of only 12,000 inhabitants, but a few hundred years ago, when Venice was great and powerful, it was the commercial outpost of the old republic, where wares were kept in large stone depots, to which the people of northern Europe came to purchase their supplies. The merchandise was laboriously transported up the valley, over the Brenner Pass, and then on to its final destination.

Even today, there is something very mediaeval about Botzen, and the feeling of the visitor is that the hands of the clock have suddenly been turned back about four hundred years. Perhaps nowhere in Europe, unless in a few unfrequented parts of Spain, will so many striking peasant costumes be seen, worn naturally and quite as a matter of course. The peasant farmer with his hat and feather, knee-breeches, startling green suspenders and silver chains, accompanied by his faithful wife bearing the burdens in an immense basket strapped to her back, is at least picturesque, and such as these come to Botzen from remote mountain villages, two or three times a year, to secure supplies, and would be surprised, if informed with anything like assurance, that Paris and London were more important or wonderful.

From Botzen, a branch railway climbs up into the mountains a distance of about twenty miles to Meran, the most fashionable resort center in this portion of Europe, and abundantly justifying its reputation by the attractions and comforts awaiting the visitor. Meran is as modern as Botzen is ancient, and consists of many great hotels and handsome villas, distributed upon both sides of the mountain stream, faintly suggesting Baden-Baden in general arrangement. The stream is a rushing mountain torrent, however, with a beautiful promenade on both sides, where the stranger may walk, hear the band, drink coffee, and do anything but smoke. The injunction is presumed to be for the benefit of invalids with weak lungs, but the deterrent is a great hardship to the average European, who is accustomed to smoke under any and all conditions, and whose occasional request for permission to do so in the presence of others is a polite fiction, since he would find some means of gratifying his wish, if permission were refused. The law and the commandments are very faithfully observed at Meran, however, and there is no smoking on the Sand Platz.

Austrian and other society begins to come to Meran when the grapes are ripe, and there are persons who enjoy fads, sufficiently credulous to take the grape cure, but the grape cure is not seriously considered even by the residents of Meran. Like most cures, the grape cure is the enemy of a list of diseases as long as the moral law, and to follow it one needs only to consume a minimum of three pounds of grapes daily, and as many more as can be comfortably disposed of. A good deal is printed about the grape cure, but as a matter of fact there is very little attention paid to it in Meran. The really interesting feature of a visit to Meran is the possibility of making numerous excursions without much effort to the thirty-seven castles which dot the country round about. We visited a number of these castles, and perhaps revelled as much as anyone amid old furniture, family portraits and other relics of the days of the robber barons, but for practical purposes they looked very uncomfortable, and even the very reasonable terms upon which they were offered for sale would scarcely be an inducement to any active American to become an owner of one, with the added obligation of being obliged to occupy it; still, many of them are very beautiful, containing treasures that delight the eye of the connoisseur. One who earnestly determined to become a castle owner would find no difficulty in gratifying his wish within easy reach of Meran. They are sometimes sold for almost beggarly sums—a few thousands of dollars, and I learned of one while there that could be had then for something like $40,000, including perhaps twenty acres of land, a castle of forty or fifty rooms, filled with furniture, portraits, family linen, and even carriages requisite for such an establishment, the whole mellowed by age, and made sacred by associations of some of the most stirring incidents of history. Of course such structures would not be built in our time at all, but I can imagine that if an effort were made to reproduce one such as I have described in any American city, and furnish it with rare and beautiful fittings, the cost would be several hundred thousand dollars at least. The beds in which the old barons slept are very short, and as for heating and ventilating these were two problems that concerned them not at all. Drainage was even less important. We stopped upon one occasion in an inn that had been a castle. There was a moat around this inn, and the conditions were very picturesque. I was sufficiently imprudent to inquire about drainage, and was promptly advised that the moat was found to be very convenient, and near at hand, and the manager of the inn was continuing a practice that had been handed down for six or seven hundred years. It is not necessarily fatal to pass a certain season at that particular inn, but the circumstances of the moat tends to destroy confidence.

MR. COONEY ON ANARCHY.

What is Demanded by Science and Jurisprudence.

"There are three sorts of people in this country who do a great deal for the welfare of humanity and who are worse criticised than any other people in the world," said James Cooney, the philosopher of North Lawrence, Thursday morning. "These are the Presidents of the United States, the dear school teachers and the blessed ministers of the gospel. Everybody is watching them continually and weighing their words and their actions. This sort of talk should be restricted. The good people would not be put in high places if they did not know how to fill them. We can't do anything except to caution fault finders to be more careful and not make trouble. The trouble's with their dispositions. They must be handled genteel, but they must be handled. The science and jurisprudence of the country demands it.

NOTES OF HOSPITAL.

Dedication of Assembly Hall Next Month.

THE LAST OFFICIAL REPORT.

An Entertainment Will Be Held in Cottage A Next Wednesday Evening—Personal Items Concerning the Comings and Goings of Attendants and Officials About the Institution.

The date of the dedication of the new assembly hall in the state hospital grounds has not been fixed positively but it will probably take place Nov. 22. The event will be a gala day for the institution. The exercises will consist of addresses by prominent speakers and members of the board of trustees. An effort is being made to secure Governor Nash and Judge William R. Day to be present and deliver addresses. The exercises will be held in the auditorium of the new building.

Mr. Thompson, a professional scenic artist, of St. Louis, and two assistants are now at work on the scenery. Five sets are being painted, representing a street scene, a parlor, dining room, kitchen, water and forest scenes.

The official report of the institution for the month ending October 15 shows a decrease of 33 patients. The total number is 787 against 799 for the previous month. Twenty were discharged as recovered, five as improved, and six died. Twenty-one were admitted during the month.

The proposed golf links at the hospital grounds will not be laid out this fall. Superintendent Eyman says that next spring he will secure some one who is a golf expert to select a suitable place and direct the laying out of the grounds.

An entertainment will be given in cottage A next Wednesday evening. The exercises will consist of vocal and instrumental music by home talent.

Superintendent Eyman, who has been in Buffalo attending the exposition, returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Fritz, who have been in charge of the dining room, have resigned their positions.

A Few Observations Regarding Taxes:

Taxes are now due.

First half payable between October 1 and December 20.

Last half payable between April 1 and June 20

Taxes become a lien on property the day preceding the second Monday of April.

After July 20 those owing June taxes are delinquent

All delinquent taxes must be paid before December 20, otherwise the property will be advertised, and the third Tuesday of January, be sold for taxes.

After becoming delinquent, the penalty on Real Estate is 15 per cent.; on delinquent Personal Tax the penalty is 10 per cent These penalties do not belong to the Treasurer, and therefore cannot be remitted.

After tax sale, the penalty the first year to tax title purchases is 15 per cent., plus 6 per cent interest; the second year the penalty is 25 per cent., plus 6 per cent interest If not redeemed within two years the property goes to the tax title purchaser

Taxpayers have option of paying full year's taxes during December collection period, but are required to pay first half with delinquencies. The remaining half should be paid within June collection.

The tax year and calendar year are not the same The first half of any year's tax is due and payable October 1, and until December 20. The second half is payable up to June 1 of the following year

Many taxpayers have formed the habit of paying the December tax and the preceding June tax together thinking they are paying the full year's tax. All such are paying the last half of one year's tax and the first half of the following year's tax and consequently they are paying 15 per cent penalty on the preceding June tax. The proper way to pay a full year's tax without penalty, is to pay in December for December and June.

Dog Tax and Road Tax are paid in full at the December collection each year. Therefore get the December rate add the road to the whole rate and take half. To get the June rate subtract the road rate from the full rate and take half. To get the December payment multiply the valuation by the December rate, adding one dollar for each male dog assessed and two dollars for each female dog.

Checks given in payment of taxes do not liquidate the county's claim until honored at the bank When checks are not paid on presentation, the taxes for which the checks were given will be reopened without notice to person giving such checks

When paying taxes, present your last receipt, as it assists very much in locating your property and tends to avoid error

When you ask by mail for the amount of your taxes, designate your property clearly state name in which the property is listed, name the township and section. If in city, give city, ward and lot number

The tax duplicates give the property in the name in which it stood the day preceding the second Monday of April of the year for which the taxes are levied So that any transfer made on or after the second Monday of April of any year will not appear on the tax duplicate until the next year

The Treasurer's Office will be open between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 4 00 p. m. from the 1st day of October to the 20th day of December, and from the first day of April to the 20th day of June, for the purpose of receiving taxes charged on the tax duplicate.

To insure prompt answer, all inquiries made by mail concering taxes should be forwarded prior to December 10 and June 10. While every effort will be made to accommodate the public, taxpayers are urgently requested to call early and pay their taxes and thus save themselves, as well as the Treasurer, the disagreeable rush at the end of the season

About 300,000 pounds of wool were this week removed from this city to Navarre, where it is being stored in the old Powick mill. It is the property of Hunberger, Wolf & Schlitz, and had been stored in the old frame building, in North Erie street, now being remodeled by A. J. Paul. The remodeling required the wool's removal. Some of the teamsters carried 5,500 pounds.

"The gay and festive 'coon," observed a citizen, today, "was never gayer or more festive than at present writing. And he's numerous, too. 'Coon hunting is a fine sport, and the realization of it is growing on Massillon people more and more, judging from the number of parties going out every night. The Tuscarawas and Snagcreek valleys are the best 'coon country in the state."

NAVARRE.

Navarre, Oct. 24.—The Independent's story of John Bailis and the dog that broke through the canal bridge had the desired effect. The county commissioners sent R. M. Reay, of the Massillon Bridge Company, down to look after repairs.

CANAL FULTON.

Canal Fulton, Oct. 24.—One new case of typhoid fever has developed here during the last twenty-four hours. There are now three cases in town and several in the surrounding country.

Season tickets for the lecture course are now on sale at Bahney's and at the offices of the Massillon and the People's Loan and Building Companies.

WILL NOT RENOUNCE ANARCHY.

Czolgosz Refuses to Embrace Religion.

Auburn, Oct. 25.—Warden Mead, of the penitentiary, refuses to divulge the names of those who have been invited to witness the execution of Czolgosz, which will take place at 7 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, October 29, but it is known that Sheriff Caldwell, of Erie county, who had Czolgosz in his custody up to the time that he arrived at the prison, has been invited, and will be one of the jury of twelve to sign Czolgosz's death certificate immediately after he is executed.

Dr. John Gerin, the prison physician, and possibly Dr. Carlos F. McDonald, of New York, will conduct the autopsy on the body of Czolgosz. The assassin's people will not claim the remains and they will be placed in a rough box, covered with quicklime and buried in the old prison cemetery on Fitch avenue, in the most fashionable part of the city. It is a number of years since the burial grounds have been used and citizens do not look with favor on the interment of Czolgosz's remains in this region. If there is any possible way by legislation to have the remains disinterred at some time in the future and taken from the city, then a number of prominent residents purpose to use their best endeavors to obtain it.

All day long Czolgosz is busily engaged in perusing Roman Catholic literature printed in Polish, which the Rev. T. Schadzinski, of St. Stanislaus' church, Rochester, gave him during their interview. The Polish priest, as well as the Catholic chaplain of the prison, are convinced that the doctrines of anarchy have taken too deep a root in the assassin's heart, and that it would be impossible to induce him to renounce them and embrace the religion in which he was baptized. In their opinion he will go to his doom without having made his peace with his Creator.

OVER NIAGARA FALLS.

Woman Makes Successful Trip in a Barrel.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, of Bay City, Mich., celebrated her 43d birthday yesterday afternoon by making a successful trip over the Horseshoe Falls in a barrel. She is the first person to attempt such a performance, and the thousands who witnessed it were amazed at the manner in which the barrel plunged over reef after reef in the upper rapids before taking the final plunge.

As the barrel went over the falls every spectator held his breath, feeling that Mrs. Taylor had gone to annihilation. But the barrel reappeared and floated to the Canadian shore, where the daring woman was taken out amid cheers from the multitude. Mrs. Taylor was bruised and sprained, but will be all right in a day or two.

The barrel in which Mrs. Taylor made the journey is four and one-half feet high and about three feet in diameter. A leather harness and cushions inside protected her body. Air was secured through a rubber tube connected with a small opening near the top of the barrel. The ride through the rapids occupied 18 minutes. It was 4:23 o'clock when the barrel took its leap. In less than half a minute after it passed over the brink it was seen on the surface of the scum-covered water below the falls, landing in what is known as the Maid of the Mist eddy, where it floated so close to shore that it was reached by means of a pole and hook.

Lewis Ockerman, Goshen, Ind., DeWitt's Little Early Risers never bend me double like other pills, but do their work thoroughly and make me feel like a boy." Certain, thorough, gentle. Rider & Snyder, 12 E. Main St., C. W. Couples, 139 W. Tremont St.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.
